

A step-free route from Westminster Station to the National Film Theatre

1

This map starts from Westminster Underground Station (step-free access from the Jubilee Line). It takes you along the north side of the Thames and across the Golden Jubilee Bridge. It brings you to the National Film Theatre, which shows mainstream and independent films every day. It is at the heart of the South Bank Centre.

This journey is around 1500 metres long. It should take around 20 minutes to finish. If you have difficulty getting about it could take around 50 minutes. (These are estimates only.)

Under each picture is a time-bar to show you how long you need to walk to finish the journey.

 = the length of travel for each part of the journey.

 = the length of travel already completed.

From the platform turn right and follow the signs for the lift. Take the lift to the next level up.

Straight ahead is the 2nd lift (to the Ticket Office). It is near the District and Circle Line Westbound platform 1.

Go through the ticket barriers and towards Exit 4. There is a lift here to get to Bridge Street.
